the 1990s, the number of people in the UK with a mental health problem has increased by 50% (Mental Health Act 1983, 1993). The number of people with a mental health problem in the UK is estimated to be 5.5 million (Mental Health Act 1983, 1993).

There is a growing awareness of the need to improve the lives of people with mental health problems. The Mental Health Act 1983 (1993) was amended to give more power to the community. the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are employed in the public sector has increased by 1.5 million, from 2.5 million in 1980 to 4 million in 1999. The public sector has grown from 10% of the economy to 15% of the economy.

There are a number of reasons for this increase. One of the main reasons is the increasing demand for public services, particularly in the areas of health and social care. Another reason is the increasing need for public services to be funded, particularly in the areas of health and social care.

There are a number of ways in which the public sector can be funded. One way is through taxation. Another way is through borrowing. A third way is through the sale of public assets.

There are a number of advantages and disadvantages to each of these ways of funding the public sector. Taxation is the most common way of funding the public sector, but it can be unpopular. Borrowing can be a quick way to raise money, but it can also be expensive. The sale of public assets can be a way to raise money, but it can also be controversial.

There are a number of ways in which the public sector can be managed. One way is through a central government. Another way is through a local government. A third way is through a private company.

There are a number of advantages and disadvantages to each of these ways of managing the public sector. Central government is the most common way of managing the public sector, but it can be slow. Local government can be more responsive, but it can also be less efficient. Private companies can be more efficient, but they can also be less accountable.

There are a number of ways in which the public sector can be reformed. One way is through privatisation. Another way is through deregulation. A third way is through the introduction of competition.

There are a number of advantages and disadvantages to each of these ways of reforming the public sector. Privatisation can be a way to raise money, but it can also be controversial. Deregulation can be a way to make the public sector more efficient, but it can also be risky. The introduction of competition can be a way to make the public sector more efficient, but it can also be risky.

There are a number of ways in which the public sector can be improved. One way is through the introduction of new services. Another way is through the improvement of existing services. A third way is through the reduction of costs.

Up in front

Mr. John Pottter attempts to teach his class the importance of wood during World War I. "What you do may become history someday too..."

Student teaching

Ms. Tina Carroll, Mrs. Maureen Jungblut's student teacher, does an excellent job of keeping the attention of all the students in the morning class as they take notes.

A classic shot

In Mr. John Potter's classroom the students pay close attention.

Everyone pay attention to the board

Mr. Sid Dobson instructs his earth space science class and attempts to get everyone's attention to the front of the classroom.

Look out, it's a camera

Ms. Jill Henady helps Italian exchange student Elena Meroni to better understand her pre-calculus.

Make sure to take notes

Mrs. Marian Horazy teaches her students how to work out their homework problems.

Do you follow my examples?

Getting the score

Mrs. Marian Horazy hands back homework papers to P.J. Marlin and Nick Nagel in their pre-algebra class.

I love this class

Mr. Steve Brandenburg's academic biology freshmen absorb a lecture on aerobic respiration. They take thorough notes to prepare for the chapter test.

Making the grade

Mr. Matt Stevens' class pulls out the homework they toiled over the night before. Now they prepare to take a grade.

Building a Business Foundation for all.

What ??? I am a Little Busy Right Now!
Senior Jenny Shearer takes a quick break from working on her resume for Mrs. Morrow's I.C.E. class, in which Jenny performs job ready duties during her senior year.

Searching, Searching, Searching.

Junior Adam Schleman searches the internet for some information for Mr. Feagans' computer applications class.

Beautifying the grounds.

Members of the new horticulture class work the soil as they prepare to make the north entrance of the school look more inviting. Senior Sarah Gaines seems ready to supervise, as Sarah DeWees and Stacy Herre position the plants.

You Can Design It, But Can You Build It?

Teneille Klopp looks on as Ryan Mays works from a design to the balsa wood model in Mr. Cox's intro to construction class.

Flippin' the Switch.

Sophomore Chris Bacewic flips the switch to raise the vehicle that he and his fellow auto mechanics classmates will be working on.

Little Miss Daisy and her Crew.

Senior Amber VanBlaircom takes flowers from the bucket and places them in vases, so she and the rest of the horticulture class can be so kind to pass them out to the faculty.

Working with their hands

More than just going to the hospital

Grow it, and then arrange it

All smiles because the baby is not crying

The course is complete for now

In the photo to the left, Natalie Ames takes the all important end-of-the-class interview at the hospital to see how well she fared.

All Work and No Play...

After stopping by to say, "Have a good weekend," Mr. Mitch Ockermann returns to hard work in his office, as this early photo attests.

Still Smiling

Julie Jung, along with the rest of the class of 2002, wishes Mr. Ockermann good luck in the future.

Stickin' With it til the End

Mr. Ockermann performs one of his last duties as Rensselaer's superintendent - here presenting a diploma to Cesilia Longoria.

Standing Ovation

Mr. Ockermann applauds during Dr. Habrowski's speech during graduation for the class of 2001.

A Little R and R

Mr. Ockermann takes a well deserved break from his superintendent duties at a home football game with school board member Gene Surr.

A Fond Farewell

Teaching Machines

Mr. Potter shares teaching in the hallway strategies with Mr. Stefanich.

Potter in Action

In the photo directly above, Mr. Potter teaches his class another valuable lesson in history.

"What is it about this bench?"

Mr. Potter and some fellow teachers who left RCHS in the 1990's (Mr. Peters, Mr. Mingear, and Mr. Beehler) try to find out why students like the office bench so much. Not only are they all gone from the high school, but so is the bench.

Old School

In the 1980's, Mr. Potter recalls for his students thoughts from "back in the day."

NYPD visited RCHS and every student listened intently

Two members of the New York Police Department came and spoke to the students about all the drama regarding 9-11 with the student body. They also came to express their appreciation for the people and support towns like Rensselaer shared with New York City after the World Trade Center disaster.

Hypnotist can you put me out?

These students to the right seem to be out of it: "under" is what the hypnotist would call it.

Students laugh as they watch

The sophomores seem to be rather attentive to the seniors who are undergoing hypnosis.

Students are amazed by what Mr. Randall says

BADD members Amy Kenning, Angelica Anselm, and Jenny Tanis pay close attention to Mr. Karl Randall's testimony, which is sometimes humorous but more often deadly serious.

"You drink and you drive and you could look like me"

An amazing guest speaker, Mr. Karl Randall, came to talk to the students about the dangers of drinking and driving.

Student Assemblies

Question Time

The students could ask the officers any questions that they had regarding the September 11 World Trade Center tragedy.

Watching the stupid moves by the seniors

Sophomores watch in amazement at what stupid things the seniors are doing, and they can't wait until they are seniors.

BADD members watch from the wings

In the left center photo, Mr. Randall made an impact on many students when it comes to taking that drink and driving.

This is new to us

The freshmen are full of laughter while watching the seniors under hypnosis. This is their first year of being included in the fun things at RCHS!

Very interesting

Book work

Lectures in health occupations

Juniors Melinda Black, Erika Peck, Kelly Turner, and Natalies Ames listen attentively in their health careers class. They are preparing for careers in health related fields.

Fun with computers

Seniors Bryan Inskip and Jason Walker diligently work on the computers in a tech class called Project Lead the Way.

Seniors Danielle Klopp and Brooke Hewitt chat after finishing their assignment in computer class.

Not this again

Bethany Streitmatter uses her woman's intuition to solve the problem of the frozen computer. These computer problems always pop up right before a deadline.

Crop that picture

Millie Waling is cropping up a storm in order to have her pictures ready to place in the yearbook.

Hard at work

Lori Walters types away at one of her many yearbook layouts. Known as the "Index Queen," she displays many journalistic talents.

A perfectionist's eye

Andy McKim works diligently on cutting and pasting pictures

Lending a hand

Chaos editor-in-chief Bethany Streitmatter gives yearbook staffer and sports editor Matt Graf suggestions for his winter sports layout.

Ready to go

Danny Garreto heads to the old blackboard to solve a modern mass communications problem.

How does this work?

Joe Gudeman tries to solve the case of the noisy movie projector. As soon as he finishes with this job, he will try to fix a broken video tape player.

This year's plans

The new student council had its first meeting in the summer to make plans for the school year. One of the first decisions agreed upon by all was to have a dance the first week of school.

Steady now...

Getting ready

J.D. Feaster and Paul Meyers help Mr. Oates get ready for the new school year. They are putting up a background for his bulletin board. Helping teachers the week before school started was a service project.

Say Cheese!

2001-2002 Student Council

Hurry...

Holliston Nagel is patiently waiting for her picture to snapped as she flashes a quick smile while assisting Mrs. Spurgeon. Those boxes can get heavy after awhile.

I saw that!

Cheaters beware. Todd Ludington is on the watch at Funfest, and unless you're a senior, you're not getting away with anything.

What a chick magnet

J.D. Feaster puts puzzle magnets on student's lockers to help "get them connected" the first week of school.

Scrub-a-dub-dub

The student council gets to know each other at their first fundraiser of the year. Those cars are getting squeaky clean.

High hopes for 2001-2002

The student council has many plans for this school year. They range from new, such as student wide assemblies, to old, like the homecoming festivities. To start the year off right, they've put little magnets on everyone's locker with their name on them. The theme represented by the puzzle pieces is, "get connected."

Hard work and no play?

Everyone deserves a break! The members of the student council are chilling out after a hard days work of washing cars. Volley ball seems to be the sport of choice. Yes, student council needs to take some time off and just sit back and soak up the sun while bonding.

Get That Car Ready

Scott Lanoue and Todd Yoder get another car ready to go. Detailing is their specialty.

Bridge Building

To the bottom right, Tyler Tatlock and Zack Wright get the frame of their bridges ready. In the background Mr. Cox is helping out students who are working on their bridges as well.

Paper those windows

In the photo below, Kenny Fraley puts paper on the windows on a '56 Subaru, so that the paint job can be completed.

Tech Club People

Now Boys Calm Down

Chris Peterson leaps on the shoulders of Brandon Howard and Winston Lynch, while Andy Lanoue tries to get out of the way. The whole building trades crew is all smiles, and they seem to enjoy the people that they work with.

Studs of the Year.

Carrie Campbell assists her teacher Mr. Dave Goodman while he trims the studs of the house.

The Start of a New Foundation

The 2001-2002 Building Trades classes start off the year with the foundation of a beautiful house.

Senior Pride

Brandon Howard, Jeremy Freeman, and Dennis Black have their power tools ready to go out into the real world.

On our house

The boys at the trades house are ready to tackle anything that they need.

Look at us... We're the greatest team!

What kind of carpet do I choose?

Chad Hammond is showing the different kinds of carpet that the trades peeps have to choose from. From the looks of it, Chad wants the blue one. Which one do you guys think would do best?

Sing it, Kevin.

Say Cheese

In the picture in bottom right corner, Amber Justice, soprano in the Treble Choir, takes a minute to flash her pearly whites at the camera while waiting for instructions from the teacher.

The Introduction

In the picture below, director Mrs. Olga Orchard steps up to the mic to introduce the Chamber Choir before their performance.

Chamber Choir

Treble Choir

Do Re Mi....

Amber Justice practices her vocal warm-ups so she doesn't injure her voice before the concert.

Dynamite

They may be a small group, but they can sure sing. After all, dynamite comes in small packages.

A true musician?

What a group

The RCHS Chamber Choir tries their hardest to show their audience a good time.

Making sweet harmony

The RCHS Chamber choir puts all of their long hard practice to work at the spring concert. With lively pieces and vocal blending, it was a fun time for all.

High School Singers

Deep Thinkers

Daydreaming or concentrating?

Staring intently ahead, Jordan Bailey tries hard to concentrate on his studies in co-reers class, rather than fall asleep while Mrs. Morrow is lecturing.

That world civ. class can be a doozie

Working at a lunch table, Tara Klemme and her classmates, Scott Kerlin, Kasey Murillo, and Megan Pitcher, feverishly try to make the grade and pass a test for their world civilizations class.

Oh, I get it now

Focused on the English 10 lecture being offered by student teacher Ms. Tina Carroll, Corey Keene and the rest of the first period class seem interested in the topic of the day.

I hope I pass, I hope I pass

Wanting to succeed in Señora Angela Bieghler's Spanish class, Eydie Courtright and Matt Gillespie do their best to pass a test so that they won't have a low grade and the resulting assigned SRT.

A new beginning

Testing, testing, testing

Johnny Igoe takes one of Mrs. Spurgeon's Art 1 tests with the hopes that he can pass and go on to Art 2. Learning the fundamentals of technique and an appreciation for art history helps create a proper foundation in the class.

It's not all fun and games.

Like the other first timers in high school art, Nichole Jacobs finishes her chapter review for Mrs. Spurgeon's Art 1 class so she can pass her test. Work hard, Nichole, and try not to get too involved in studying.

Hot gluing is fun.

Nick Phegley, Andrew Malone, and Matt Gifford work hard on their mousetrap cars, even though they are using the hot glue when they are not supposed to. Good luck boys on that winning car you made. Keep working hard to show off that car making talent you learn throughout the semester.

Reporting on a great topic.

Michelle Kennedy reports on a topic in biology class. Luckily she's a good sport and didn't get too nervous when the camera flashed.

Girls Golf

One putt at a time

The South Newton opponent watches Ariel Hartwell as she concentrates on making the putt.

Disturbingly good

Number two golfer Kate Greene finishes another great swing on Hole 6 and witnesses her ball land gracefully in the fairway.

Golf is great

Swing it

In the photo to the right, freshman Jamie Pettet hits the ball to put it back on the fairway. In her first season on varsity, she showed a lot of determination.

Playing down the middle

Team captain Terrah Smith keeps her head down as she puts her effort into hitting the ball down the fairway. She was a great leader for the team this year.

Varsity Volleyball

Seniors, seniors, hey we're here!
Shyla Hesson, Ashley Hayworth, Bethany Streitmatter, Amber Minix, and Alina Mathew celebrate their careers as volleyball players before their last home match of the season.

"Can you spike me higher?"
Bethany Streitmatter defies gravity and has the ball screaming for mercy when she comes to spike. Streitmatter earned All-Conference honors for the volleyball season.

"We are fam-i-ly"

"Bumpin' bumpin'"

It's game time, and Breann Sheurich is "bumpin' bumpin'." Ashley Hayworth and Alina Mathew witness this bodacious bump.

Lean, mean, spikin' machine

Ashley Hayworth dominates the net in a match against West Central. Hayworth was one of the hard-hitting Lady Bombers this season.

"C" TEAM VOLLEYBALL BUMP, SET..

Help me out...

Megan Weiss looks for help from Sandra Watt and Jordan Holliday.

Keep your eye on the ball

Bomber players are preparing to "bump, set and spike" their way to victory.

Powerhouse

Katie Bowers sends the ball flying across the net with hopes for another Bomber point.

Watch out

Breeanne Braasch and a teammate become tangled in the process of hustling for the ball.

Huddle around..

The Bombers get some advice from Coach Watts.

C-Team

Record 10-12

Highlights:

•First C-team wins against Crown Point and Twin Lakes

Coach's Comments:

Coach Wamesley says, "All of the girls improved a great deal from the beginning of the season to the end. It was a learning experience for all."

"C" Volleyball Team

Junior Varsity

Record 13-17

Highlights

- Liz Thorndyke led in serves with 262.
- Azrielle Albrecht was top in sets with 736.
- Sam Furst took the lead in spikes with 338 spikes.

JV Volleyball Team

Get ready
Jamie Wood puts the ball up for the serve while Holliston Nagel gets ready for the return.

Up and over

JV player Azrielle Albrecht hits the ball up and over the net for another point for the Bombers.

Ace it up

Melyssa Kellow winds up to let loose a killer serve on the opponents during a home junior varsity volleyball match this year. Serving was a strength of the Lady Bomber volleyball team this year.

Way to go

Sarah DeWees spikes the ball over the net.

3 ... 2 ... 1 blast off

Rensselaer's offensive line gets ready to blast into the Delphi Oracles. What is an Oracle? Nobody cares around here, the Bombers beat them.

Wrap him up

Pat Shanley lays a big hit on the Delphi running back. Other Bombers are in hot pursuit of helping out Pat, but he doesn't need it.

Two Bomber heroes

A special kind of player, Josh Carr

In the photo to the right, Josh Carr does his best against Delphi on special teams, like when he returns a punt for a potential touchdown.

Worming through some tackles

Bomber running back Brett Koebecke bursts through some tough Delphi tacklers, which explains why the good guys in red beat the Oracles 33-8.

What are they talking about?

Jacob Roland conspires with fellow teammate Ryan Mays. As a first year cross country runner, Jacob Roland worked extremely hard and became a key top five runner. Ryan Mays was a veteran and also a key runner.

Utter determination

Watch out! Rensselaer men take no prisoners. These boys run with one thing on their minds, to win. They attack at the start and finish.

And they're off

Livin' it up

Jacob Rowland, Ryan Mays, Scott Kerlin, Tommy Vigeant, Adam Zimmer, and Robbie Butler bond as they gather together after an amazing team effort.

The wheels

Adam Zimmer holds the key to great runners: shoes that have been worn by Ben Zimmer, Elliott Zimmer, and many others. Legend has it that these seemingly magical racing flats are all a runner needs to crush the competition.

Building on the past to become a future leader

An outstanding runner for the RCHS boys cross country team in 2001, Adam Zimmer plans to return during the 2002 as a senior, and, with a lot of sheer aggression, hoped to lead his team with even greater success.

RC CHEER

JUST CAN'T HIDE THAT BOMBER PRIDE

Midwest Cheer and Dance

During the 2001-02 school year, the RCHS cheerleaders competed in an All-girls stunts, small junior varsity, and small varsity contests. Alexis Simmons and Millie Waling competed in the scholarship division. Rhi Hartwell was in the dance individual, and J.D. Feaster was in the mascot division. Topping all others in its category, Rensselaer took first place in the squad divisions. In all, the cheerleaders had a successful year.

Beat those Jays!

Seniors, seniors hey we're here!

Rachel Peck, Emilia Waling, Alexis Simmons, and Rhianon Hartwell show their spirit in the final home football game.

Go Team Go

The freshmen cheerleaders encourage the basketball players to another victory.

It's a bird!

No, it's Tara Klemme. The cheerleaders perform their most difficult stunt at the basketball sectional.

Who rocks the house?

The Bombers rock the house, and so does Carrie Lanoue. At left, she does all she can to get the crowd motivated and pumped. Above, the cheerleaders execute three straight up extensions for the starting line-up.

Beat those Kougars!

The Rensselaer cheerleaders are pumped for Homecoming, the most exciting football game of the year. Senior Rhannon Hartwell is in front cheering her heart out.

Straight Up Extension

Lindsey Hitchings is on top of things. The freshmen (from left, Carrie Lanoue, Kayla McKnight, and Michelle Kennedy - Tosh Hartwell is unseen on the far side) learned a lot this year, and they show it when they display this build. They warm up the stunt before the game starts so they can work on exciting the crowd to cheer on the team. Performing with such expertise can be a challenge and quite an impressive feat for their first year of high school.

Swoosh!

A junior varsity basketball player just made a freethrow and Natalie Gantf flashes a smile while Jenna Robinson shouts encouraging words. These girls are always found supporting Rensselaer athletes. Also in the picture is the rest of the junior varsity squad.

Highlights

During the 2002 season the girls did very well. Although they did not win many games, they worked hard as a team and showed great improvement. The girls' softball team continued to build a foundation for a plus season very soon.

Keep Your Eyes on the Ball

Bryan Russell sets up to the ball hopping for a successful swing. Bryan was the varsity's fifth man most of the year.

Senior Representation

The lone senior on the boys golf team, Mike Asbell, strokes a putt at a home match. Mike placed second in sectionals shooting a 77, which qualified him for regionals.

Perfect Form

Directly above, Brad Sayler watches as his ball skies towards the hole. Above that Austin Pettef watches the ball drop into the hole.

Getting in touch with nature

Chad Nagel and Landon Sayler stroll through Curtis Creek pondering their next shots. These two played vital roles in the JV's 8-4 winning season.

Smooth Stroke

Ryan Anderson, the only junior on the varsity team, watches as the ball rolls towards the hole. Ryan was the team's number one player throughout the year. He was given the most valuable golfer award by Coach Stefanich.

Singing in the rain

Many of the students watched the Homecoming rally from the stands. There were many umbrellas, but also many smiles. Not only were students invited, but locals were too. Occasionally the cheerleaders would throw out candy.

Watch out

The J.V. football players are getting hyped for the game on their way to the field. The noise on the trucks really helps ease

Right on

Criss ride on? Janell Nagel and Ashley Gutwein pedal their ride for the Bombers along with the rest of the cross country team.

Are we there yet?

As they slowly creep to their destination of the high school football field, Cassie Papak, Amanda Stath, and Monica Johnson show off their class float. They hope they win this year.

Bomber jacks ready?

They sure are! With the senior leaders in the middle, the rest of the football team rushed to the field to perform their traditional bomber jacks for the entire crowd.
